

But Cedric said nothing.

GIVE HIM A TASTE OF THE IRON THEN!

Suddenly there was a clatter of hooves outside.

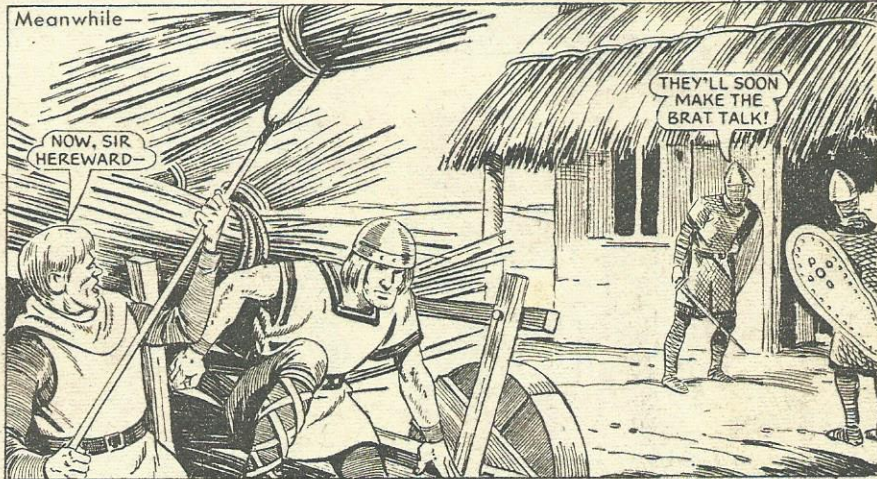

HOLD! WHAT IS GOING ON?

'TIS NOTHING, SIR LOUIS! THE SAXON OAF BRINGING US FUEL LET HIS HORSES BOLT INTO THE YARD!

TELL THE FOOL TO UNLOAD HIS WAGGON!

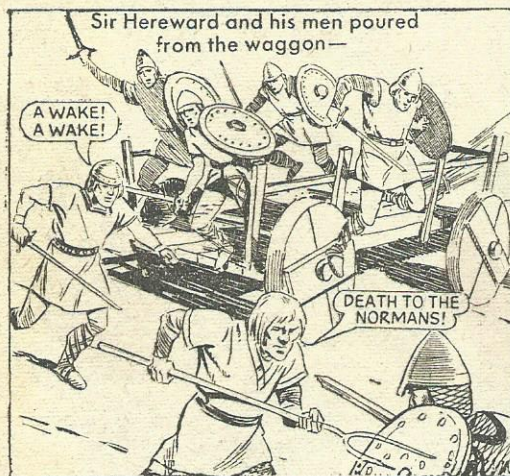

THE IRON WILL HAVE TO BE HEATED AGAIN!

Meanwhile—

NOW, SIR HERWARD—

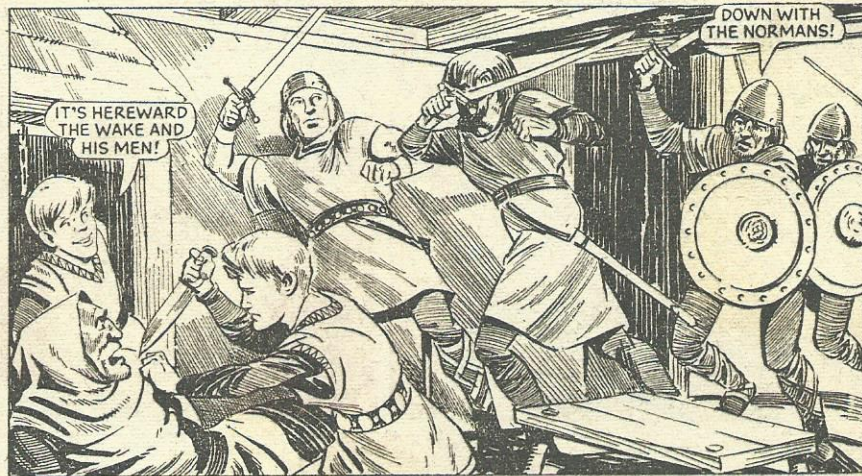

THEY'LL SOON MAKE THE BRAT TALK!

Sir Herward and his men poured from the waggon—

A WAKE! A WAKE!

DEATH TO THE NORMANS!

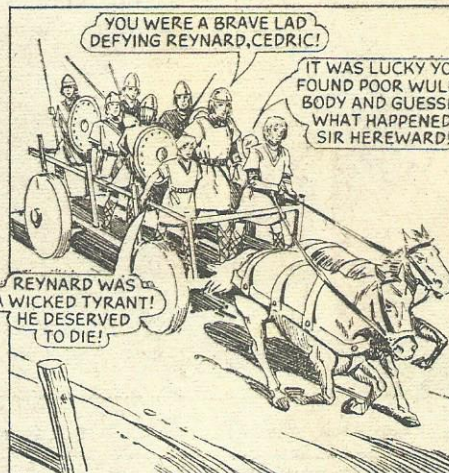

DOWN WITH THE NORMANS!

IT'S HERWARD THE WAKE AND HIS MEN!

When the Normans had been wiped out.

COME, LADS, WE MUST GET AWAY FROM HERE AT THE DOUBLE!

YOU WERE A BRAVE LAD, DEFYING REYNARD, CEDRIC!

IT WAS LUCKY YOU FOUND POOR WULF'S BODY AND GUESSED WHAT HAPPENED, SIR HERWARD!

REYNARD WAS A WICKED TYRANT! HE DESERVED TO DIE!

Later.

WULF WILL BE AVENGED! HE WAS A TRUE SAXON AND DIED LIKE ONE— FIGHTING FOR FREEDOM!

Why do the boys tear up a causeway? Find out in NEXT WEEK'S smashing story.
