

It was Adam Alpha, an android, the third team member, who had suggested I joined the team. My 'experience' of working in the 'grey' area between criminals and the law, would bring much knowledge in how criminal organisations worked to the team.

On the other hand I have taken the King's shilling,* so perhaps I had better do something.

Lets have a look at that article again. Mmmmm.

Be patience with them Scallywag. They need time to get used to you being part of the team.

A few phone calls later, sees Scallywag at St. Simon's Park meeting a contact.

* Taking the King's Shilling - meaning to sign up as a soldier or in this case joining The Flying Squad. Editor.
