

Evening Albert. All finished for the day?

McGill. Yes. No news on the missing lighthouse keeper?

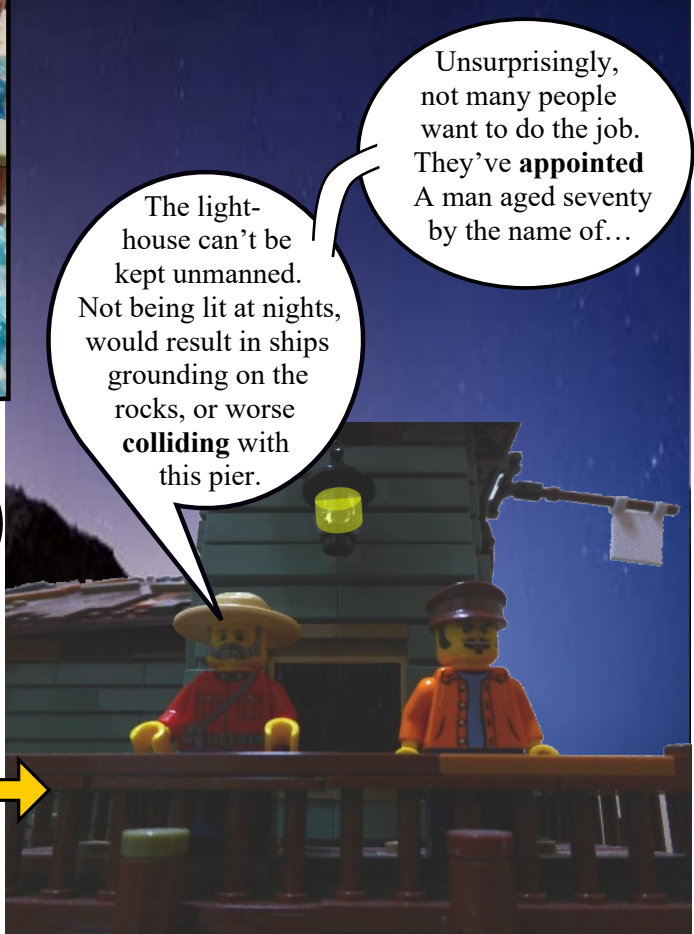

No. The evidence shows that he was swept out to sea in the storm last night.

Damn. It's a tough assignment being Napier Lighthouse Keeper.

A lonely isolated job.

Has the position been filled already? I noticed a new man at the lighthouse as we passed on the ferry.

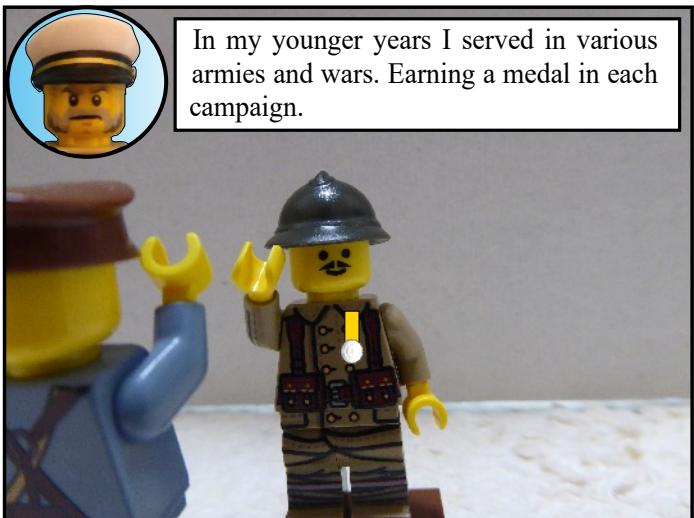

The lighthouse can't be kept unmanned. Not being lit at nights, would result in ships grounding on the rocks, or worse colliding with this pier.

Unsurprisingly, not many people want to do the job. They've appointed A man aged seventy by the name of...

...Skavinski. Polish? Have you served in Government service and have testimonials to prove it?

In my younger years I served in various armies and wars. Earning a medal in each campaign.
