

Trapped!

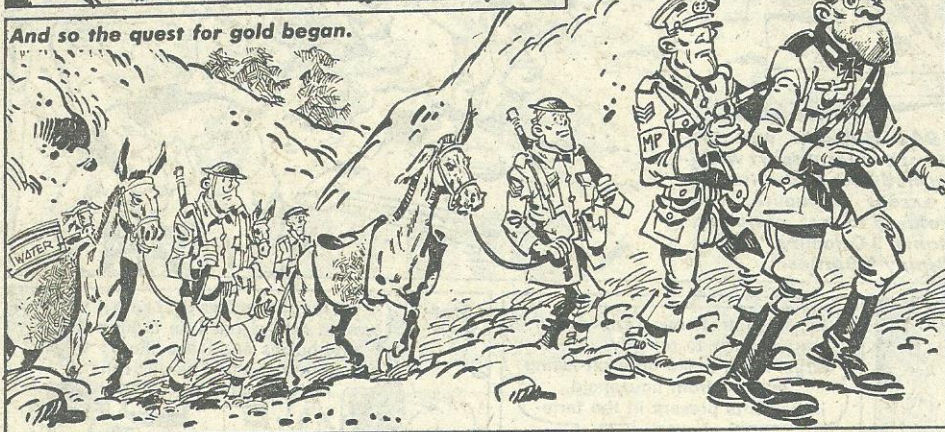

Before the Germans withdrew they looted the local bank of a quantity of gold coins. Now this prisoner helped carry the coins into the mountain and hide them there.

He has offered to show us where the loot is hidden but he says it will need mules to get it down. That's where you come in.

Brainy, get the mules out. Jones, get some water and grub together. This may be a long trip.

And so the quest for gold began.

Ach, there it is. We hid the gold inside that cave.

Wow! There must be a fortune here!

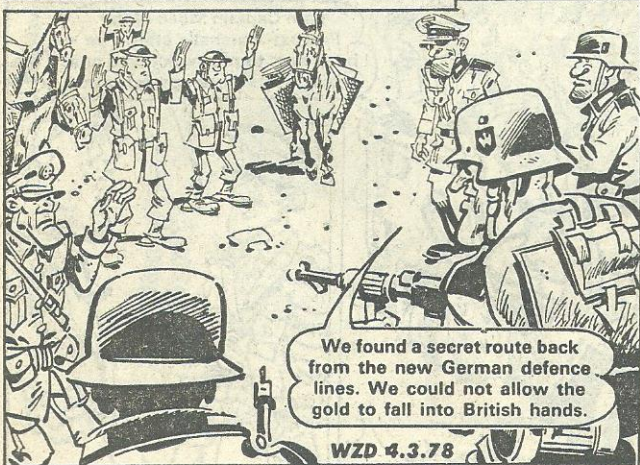

Let's start loading the stuff up.

Then, as they finished loading—

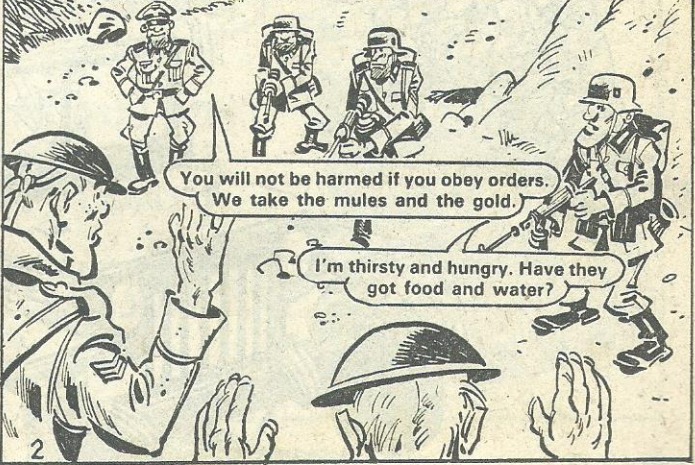

Drop your guns! We have you covered.

Ah, my troops!

We found a secret route back from the new German defence lines. We could not allow the gold to fall into British hands.

WZD 4.3.78

You will not be harmed if you obey orders. We take the mules and the gold.

I'm thirsty and hungry. Have they got food and water?
