

The flooded section prevents us from getting to the other craft. But if we could reach the craft, would allow one other person to escape.

Normally, this wouldn't be a problem. The support ship would send down another craft. But can't, due to the stormy weather topside.

Which means, three people can escape and two can't.

Damn. We all know the risks. But I didn't think it would happen this soon.

I always thought I would die heroically. Not by drowning!

Maybe not. I've got an idea.

Button it Vex. I don't want to hear your ideas. You've already tried to kill us all once.

Back off Stone.
