

The Spitfire's coming straight at us!

We're seeing things! It doesn't look real! It's like a shadow!

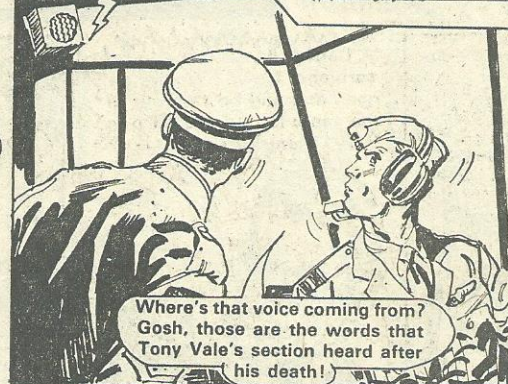

This is Blue Leader! I got him! So long, boys! Good hunting!

The JU 88 has blown up! Phew, it must have been carrying bombs!

What set off the explosion? There isn't another aircraft in sight.

Where's that voice coming from? Gosh, those are the words that Tony Vale's section heard after his death!

Did Squadron-Leader Tony Vale come back from the dead to defend his country again? You have been told the facts. Decide for yourself.

"Of course, things fell into place when the original crew were found."

Our boys were knocked out, sir. Somebody took their place. It was a plot to destroy our Top Brass. But the bombers bungled, and blew themselves up instead.

Yes, that'll be the official explanation. But I wonder?

WZD 18.3.78

NEXT WEEK—Another gripping Simon Gaunt thriller.